

AGRICOLTURA

Korea Rural Economic Institute (KREI) and the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) jointly held an experts conference on April 6 and 7 2011 at Plaza Hotel in Seoul to discuss issues related to green growth in the agro-food sector.

At the opening ceremony, KREI President Oh Se-lk delivered a welcoming speech and asked the conference participants to make best use of the meeting to examine Korea's progress in bringing green growth to the agro-food sector and find viable solutions to promote it.

The conference was held in separate sessions for two days. On the first day, sessions were held under the themes of 'agriculture and background of green growth,' 'green growth in the agro-food sector,' and 'environmental challenges to green growth.' The topics for the second-day sessions were 'technology innovation for green growth,' 'empirical analysis of green growth,' and 'structural conditions for green growth in agriculture and the agro-food sector.' (...)

The article:

http://www.krei.re.kr/eng/newsrooms/news_view.php?bn_idx=23281&cpage=2¶m=&

The presentations:

<http://www.krei.re.kr/eng/newsrooms/event.php>