

Value of Indigenous Knowledge to improve resilience to environmental change/climate change

An international assessment of the value of Indigenous Knowledge to improve resilience to environmental change/climate change was commissioned last year. The regional documents, an international summary and regional summaries in local languages are now available online at:

<http://www.sharingknowledge.net.au>

Please click through to them on the 'international resources' tab.