

AMBIENTE

The event, organised by Unesco, will be held in Paris on February 9-10. It will bring together scientists, civil society, responsible and engaged citizens, youth, entrepreneurs, artists who will discuss the links between biodiversity and climate change, in the run-up to the 21st Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, which will be held in Paris in December 2015.(...)

The article:

http://www.almanacco.cnr.it/reader/?Mlval=cw_usr_view_articolo.html&id_articolo=6268&id_rub=49&giornale=6249

More about:

<https://en.unesco.org/events/assises-du-vivant-2015-biodiversity-and-climate-change-interaction-creating-new-life>