To mark International Human Rights Day on 10 December, the Institute for Human Rights and Business (IHRB) is today releasing its Top 10 List of Business and Human Rights Issues for 2011.   "This year has seen several important developments in the rapidly-changing world of business and human rights, but 2011 will be critical in mainstreaming this emerging movement on political and business agendas globally," said John Morrison, IHRB Executive Director. The Institute's 2011 Top 10 list pulls together some of the key themes that are set to drive debate over the coming year. (...)
