

Children working on tobacco farms in the United States are exposed to nicotine, toxic pesticides, and other dangers, Human Rights Watch said in a report released today. While US law prohibits the sale of tobacco products to children, children can legally work on tobacco farms in the US. The world's largest tobacco companies buy tobacco grown on US farms, but none have child labor policies that sufficiently protect children from hazardous work. (...)

The article:

<http://www.hrw.org/news/2014/05/14/us-child-workers-danger-tobacco-farms>

The Report:

<http://www.hrw.org/node/125316>

More about:

<http://www.hrw.org/news/2014/06/27/dispatches-daily-show-takes-down-child-labor-tobacco-farms>

<http://www.hrw.org/news/2014/09/04/us-tobacco-growers-act-protect-child-workers>

<http://www.hrw.org/news/2014/10/02/us-tobacco-group-adopts-child-labor-protections>

* * *

Usa - Bambini che raccolgono il tabacco:

Usa - Child Workers in Danger on Tobacco Farms

Scritto da Administrator

<http://comune-info.net/2014/09/bambini-raccolgono-tabacco/>