

With 1.8 billion young people around the world – the largest generation of youth in history – senior United Nations officials are marking World Population Day with calls for a renewed commitment to helping young people improve their lives and the common future. “Action is urgently needed,” Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon said in his message for the Day, stressing that too many young people are denied a right to a quality education, a decent job, and participation in the political life of their societies. (...)

The article:

<http://www.un.org/apps/news/story.asp?NewsID=48248#.U8EwnrHb4ec>

More about:

<http://www.unfpa.org/public/world-population-day>

Sull'argomento:

<http://www.regionieambiente.it/agenda/manifestazioni/1410-world-population-day.html>

<http://www.clubofrome.org/?p=7314>

Infografici:

<http://vimeo.com/10982013>

<http://vimeo.com/31373691>

A proposito di... Giovani:

<http://www.lastampa.it/2014/07/12/economia/lavoro-sicurezza-e-sostenibilit-cosa-vogliono-i-giovani-dai-grandi-K3gIUfSdg9mwqiJgDaf78H/pagina.html>

Gli ultimi sviluppi:

<http://www.galileonet.it/articles/543d2da1a5717a5293000081>

Passato... presente:

http://www.fabiomanzione.it/index.php?searchword=demografia&ordering=newest&searchphrase=all&option=com_search